

Len Cabral African American Storyteller

Of Cape Verde heritage, Len shared personal stories of growing up as a minority in Rhode Island, including his experience with racial profiling. While his recount was humorously performed, his story conveyed how subtle, blatant and pervasive stereotyping can be. He reminded us of the significance of storytelling in many of the world's cultures and how this simple act not only entertains, but bridges a gap between people.